Ghetto clearing in Southwest Washington D.C.

1860 - 1949

- City grid plan included homes that fronted alleys,
- In 1910, 37.5 / 1,000 children < 1 died of disease (twice as high as street residents)

In 1952

- 43% had no indoor toilet
- 27% had no inside running water
- 70% had no central heating

During urban renewal, 99% of the existing buildings were destroyed, displacing 1500 businesses and 23 000 residents, most of whom were not able to return to the expensive new housing that replaced their former homes.
